The suddenness of the appeal caused his father to drop the dish.

Not minding the broken crockery or his father's imprecations, Theodore dropped the dish-towel onto the floor and then dropped onto his knees upon it.

John Grunt called for the police.

"Papa, I am not mad!" raved Theodore.

TOO MUCH FATHER-IN-LAW. But another soon followed it.

"Laura Lavinia," said Theodore on vening, "why did you stay so long at the sewing circle? The dinner dishes remai nwashed and supper is not yet ready."

Laura Lavinia's face flushed.

Her blood was up.

"One house is too small for three, where one of those three is a father-in-law!" she hissed between her teeth—a new set, by the way. "I've stood this as long as I can, and as long as I will!"

Theodore fell into his father's arms, sobbing hysterically.

"Never mind, my dear boy, never mind," said John Grunt. "I've been expecting this. I leave for Chicago this night!"

"Oh, papa!" screamed Theodore, "don't "don't

But John Grunt was obdurate. He went Financial and Commercial.

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL.

[There is really nothing to write for this chapter. After the father-in-law left, everything went along as tranquil as a smoothing-plane, and Theodore used frequently to say to Laura Lavinia:

Juring the alternoon there were heavy sales to realize profits which caused a decline of ½ to 2½ per cent, Michigan Ceniral, Metropolitan elevated, Western Union, Lake Shore and granger and coal stocks being most prominent in the downward movement. At the close there was a fractional recovery in some cases. The earnings of the St. Paul and Omaha road for the furth week of September were $108,000, an increase of $22,000. To pay 7 per cent on the preferred stock of this road it has but to earn $300,000 per month. The St. Paul and Milwaukee road gained $61,000 the last week of September. The exports of corn and wheat from this port alone last week coeceded $0,000,000 bushels, a gain of $600,000 bu of his lost Maria's affection. It was not strange, therefore, that he doted on The-dore.

So be said no more, but fled from the kitchen, leaving the dish-washing to his father.

The manufacturer stated that be did not think that free trade would greatly damage think that free trade would greatly damage of his employee to the same price paid for like work in Europe, and he could then make and sell goods just as cheap as any factory in Europe and have a fair profit. CHAPTER VI.

More THAY SHE BARBAINED FOR.

When Laurs Lavinis pulled 'the belt that evening, Theodore Grunt pulled the pipe from his mouth spontaneously.

He bounded lightly to the door himself, not waiting for his father to do it.

He will then, perhaps, want a change, but it will take years to effect the change he desires, and those years will be to him, maybe, the most important part of his life. If the manufacturer has thought out the problem and arrived at this conclusion is it not time for the employes to descent thinking? do some thinking?

Laura Lavinia smothered with her kisses what Theodore would have said further.

She had heard enough.

There was a gleam of anger in her face for a moment, as though she would like to smother something besides Theodore's words, while she was about it. It was but momentary, however.

"It will be so nice!" she said.

A Paster Made Happy.

I have been greatly troubled with my kidnoys and liver for over twenty years, and during that entire time I was never free from pain. My medical bills were enormous, and I visited both the Hot and White Springs, noted for the curative qualities of the water. I am happy to say I am now a well man, and entirely as the result of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure. With such glorious results I am only too glad to testify regarding the remady which has made me so happy.
